This handbook is primarily for the use of persons in the business of importing, manufacturing, and dealing in firearms defined by the National Firearms Act (NFA) or persons intending to go into an NFA firearms business. It should also be helpful to collectors of NFA firearms and other persons having questions about the application of the NFA. This publication is not a law book. Rather, it is intended as a ?user friendly? reference book enabling the user to quickly find answers to questions concerning the NFA. Nevertheless, it should also be useful to attorneys seeking basic information about the NFA and how the law has been interpreted by ATF. The book's Table of Contents will be helpful to the user in locating needed information. Although the principal focus of the handbook is the NFA, the book necessarily covers provisions of the Gun Control Act of 1968 and the Arms Export Control Act impacting NFA firearms businesses and collectors.

" ... analyzes the rules of [section] 6901 and related judicial interpretations. Beginning with a general discussion of transferee liability and its development from the so-called trust fund doctrine, the Portfolio distinguishes between transferee liability in equity and liability at law. The liability of a transferee at law or equity for the tax of the transferor is governed by state law and in some cases by federal statutes. The liability of the transferor is determined under the Internal Revenue Code. Section 6901 does not create a separate liability for the transferee; instead, it provides a regime to facilitate collection by the IRS from a third party of the tax due from the transferor and to permit the third party/transferee to contest the IRS determination in the U.S. Tax Court. The Portfolio also discusses the liability of a fiduciary under 31 U.S.C. [section] 3713(b) and the application of [section] 6901 to this type of liability"--P. (iii).
